

I am a XM satellite Radio subscriber and I travel 50 miles per day to and from work. I listen to the traffic and weather channels while driving to and from work so that I know where traffic is congested and I can take an alternate route. I enjoy the commercial free stations and since I pay a fee for this service, I don't feel that the NAB should have the right to limit XM Satellite Radios "locally orientated" content. XM Satellite Radio provides more variety and better sound quality than the AM and FM stations on other radios, and their traffic and weather channels offer more detailed information than the AM & FM stations. I respectfully urge the FCC to reject NAB'S petition 04-160 and to support XM Satellite Radios ability to provide the kind of programming that I demand and deserve and pay for. Thank you.
